ABOUT GRACEWOOD ...

Gracewood is a residential program for mothers and their children who find themselves in a difficult season of life. Gracewood offers a home-like environment where family well-being is restored while moms work toward specific, individual goals.

Mothers come to Gracewood from all walks of life, but they all have one thing in common: they are women who love their children and are ready to do whatever it takes to make a better life for their families. At Gracewood, hurting mothers find a professional staff that is trained to deal with trauma and loss.

Mothers are role models for their children. Seeing mom succeed shows the children that they, too, can achieve great things in life through hard work and commitment.
